College Board Faces Building Problem Friday

PALM DESERT — The Coachella Valley Junior College District board will meet in the district offices here at 8 p.m. Friday in an effort to map a plan for first-phase construction for the College of the Desert in face of contractor's bids which averaged 12 per cent above architectural estimates.

Dr. Roy C. McCall, president of the College told The Desert Sun today he had not arrived at any recommendations for the board. He added he expects to make both a report on the bids and a recommendation Friday night.

Low base composite bid for the 11-building first-phase was the 4,479,000 bid of J. R. Daum, Los Angeles, with the 4,487,340 bid of Crown Construction Co. the only other composite bid. With deducted alternates, including a student center and gymnasium, the Crown bid was low at 3,797,340, with Daum tallying $3,835,600.

The board may seek a rebid on classes and shop units which were bid by Gladding Construction at $984,190.

Dr. Roy C. McCall, told The Desert Sun that the board may elect to take portions of the bids, or could call for new bids on selected items.

PALM CANYON DRIVE SUIT SET FOR SUPERIOR COURT

RIVERSIDE—Action to validate proceeding of the North Palm Canyon Drive project, will be filed in Superior Court in Riverside today by J. T. Ganahl, Corona attorney, representing E. L. Yaeger Company, contractors on the job it was reported today.

Ganahl said there were a few points that must be made clear so that there can be no misunderstanding in the future.

Ganahl met with acting public works director Harold Stone, and acting city manager Shelby Langford earlier this week to inform them of the proceedings.

Both Langford and Stone said that the action in no way affected the construction of the job nor would it delay it.

Lightning, Flash Flood Hit Marines

Bolt Strikes One Leatherneck, While Flood Hurts More

TWENTYNINE PALMS — A Marine was struck by lightning and several were injured in a flash flood while with the Marine Corps Reserve training exercise here yesterday.

No serious injuries were reported by the base medical authorities. The Marines were evacuated by helicopter from the field to the base hospital for observation and treatment.

At about 3:30 p.m. Wednesday Pfc. Peter J. Geamakas, was struck by a lightning bolt. He reports he was sitting on a rock, his rifle across his knees and lighting a cigarette in the rain.

The reservist said the next thing he knew he was lying on a stretcher and his platoon leader was standing over him holding what remained of his boot. It had been burned off and all that remained was the sole and lacing eyelets.

Geamakas was burned about the neck where his dog tags had hung and he suffered second degree burns on his right leg when the lightning bolt grounded through his boot. He said his home address is 9207 Annetta, South Gate, Calif.

Earlier a group of reservists from New Orleans, La., was encamped in a draw on the desert when heavy rainfall hit. Water started to collect in the draw and the men began moving to higher ground when a gushing stream of water raced down upon them.

Because of the heavy downpour in the rocks and sand on the slope, the troops could not move quickly. Twelve reservists were moving in a chain across the stream when several lost their footing and fell in the fast-moving water.

Master Sergeant Oliver P. Bandoun of 71 O.K. Avenue, Harkham, La., was washed 75 yards down the draw before he could grasp a bush and pull himself out. He suffered numerous cuts and bruises and took on a considerable amount of muddy water.

Cpl. Lance Calahan, also from New Orleans, suffered a severe leg sprain. Pfc. Raymond A. Muniz of East Bernard, Tex., suffered a sprained knee when another man fell against him in the water.

The Reserve liaison office said no Marine reservist had been reported missing.

MORE PARKING METERS are installed as city workers join Palm Springs businessmen in preparation for the coming season. The men, from left, F. J. Armstrong, Bob Roberts and Al Rohde, this morning were setting pipes along Tahquitz-McCallum in front of the Spa. Additional meters also are scheduled for sections of Palm Canyon Drive.

News In Brief

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—California's single company fire insurance policy for veterans saved the former GI's nearly half a million dollars in their first six months of operation, Veterans Affairs Director Joseph M. Farber said today.

And the controversial official confidentially predicted an even larger saving in the future.

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown Wednesday appointed a 19-member state study commission to take a "critical look" at California's welfare procedures.

The commission, authorized by the 1961 legislature, will serve in addition to the seven-member state Social Welfare Board. The board makes regulations to enforce welfare laws and advises the state Department of Social Welfare.

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (UPI) — Police clashed today with antigovernment political sympathizers who attempted to stage a march through the city following special church services.

When the demonstrators refused to break up police fired into the air and used night sticks to disperse them. Several persons were reported hurt.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Speaker Sam Rayburn today formally endorsed a $2.1 billion school aid package and initiated a drive to get the administration last-ditch proposal to the House floor for action.

Dangerous to Follow Husband

CATHEDRAL CITY — Roxane Barone, 926 N. Riverside Dr., Palm Springs, followed her husband to an abrupt conclusion at the north end of Cathedral Canyon Dr. here at midnight Wednesday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Mrs. Barone received minor injuries when her car rammed the rear of a car driven by her husband, Leo Joseph Barone. Mrs. Barone explained her husband's car had passed through some dust, and she failed to see his vehicle stop at the T-intersection.

CHP officers cited Mrs. Barone for unsafe speed for conditions.

Auto Workers Head Toward Settlement

DETROIT (UPI) —The United Auto Workers and American Motors headed today toward a new contract agreement and a company bargainer said "we'll know by tomorrow" if a speedy settlement can be reached.

AMC Vice President Edward L. Cushman, UAW President Walter P. Reuther and UAW Vice President Norman Matthews met secretly and were reported making progress toward a new pact covering 25,000 workers in Michigan and Wisconsin.

Although a news blackout was imposed, AMC Labor Relations Director George Gullen told UPI that "We are working hard toward an agreement. We will probably go through the rest of the weekend, but we'll know by tomorrow whether we are going to settle or not."

"So far there has been a lot of sparring around. But I think we understand each other pretty well. When it moves it will move all at once."

Reuther, Matthews and Cushman began their marathon session Wednesday morning and it lasted well through the night.

Reuther was believed to be trying for a quick settlement at AMC in hopes of using the agreement as another club against the Big Three of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, already facing a possible strike when their contracts for 500,000 workers expire next week.

Russians Charge Allied Breach in Air Travel Pact

By United Press International

The Communists tightened their squeeze on Berlin in the air and on the ground today. They hinted they may limit Western air traffic rights into the city and added to their harassing tactics by temporarily blocking several U. S. Army vehicles from entering East Berlin.

The Soviet government sent notes to the United States, Britain and France accusing the West of a "flagrant breach" of the 1945 four-power agreement that set up the air corridors to Berlin.

Moscow charged that the West was letting the air corridors be used for the "subversive and revenge-seeking aims of West German militarists," and hinted it might take measures to limit their use.

This brought a prompt warning from Britain to Russia to keep its hands off the air routes. The Foreign Office said any threat to the West's air communications to Berlin would be an "extremely serious matter."

There was no immediate comment from Washington or Paris.

Stop American Buses
In Berlin, the East Berlin Communist police temporarily blocked four U.S. Army buses trying to enter East Berlin with American soldiers and their families on routine sightseeing trips. After more than an hour's argument, the vehicles were allowed to proceed.

But the new tough notes from Moscow and the growing boldness of Communist forces in Berlin against the Western powers heightened the sense of crisis.

Saboteurs and Spies
The notes charged that the West was permitting "all kind of revenge-seekers, extremists, saboteurs and spies" into Berlin from West Germany.

The tough new Soviet protest came as Communist East Berlin police shot a high-pressure stream from a water cannon across the barrier into West Berlin at two American soldiers this morning. The water was turned off when the soldiers reached toward their hand grenades.

After the incident a U.S. Army spokesman was asked how the soldiers were instructed to react if attacked by water cannon.

He said, however, that he did not believe they would shoot if brought under attack from the water cannon.

Missing

MUSKEGON HEIGHTS, Mich. (UPI) — The theft of 1,000 gallons of gasoline from two trucks left police with two questions to answer. 1. Who took the gas? 2. What did he put it in? The latter, they said, was harder to solve than the first.

Suspect in Child Mystery Gets Lie Test

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A man arrested in the disappearance of 11-year-old Karen Lynn Tompkins was given a lie detector test today, but police said unless it turned up something new he probably would be released.

Detective Sgt. Gene Tinch said that investigation showed Lonnie Franklin Smith, 49, a glass worker from Long Beach, was buying a car about the time the girl vanished last Friday. He said the car transaction took place some distance from the girl's school where she last was seen.

"We feel sure Smith could not have covered the distance in that time," said Tinch.

But he said Smith, arrested Wednesday when officers found stains on his shirt and car, was given the test as "a precaution" before he was released.

Smith was arrested Tuesday night as a drunk, and police became suspicious when they heard him babbling the girl's name and mentioned the family.

Smith told officers that the stains on his clothes and car came from a fish he had bought.

Karen's father, William Tompkins, a sailor stationed aboard the USS Ticonderoga in the Far East, arrived home Wednesday to aid in the intensive search.

"We can only hope that some frustrated mother took Karen as her own and that she will release her in a few days," Tompkins said. "I feel that Karen is alive—if she had been molested and killed, her body would have been found by now."

Broader Election Issue Set Monday

By FRED WEIGEL

City Councilman Ted McKinney said today that he would broach fellow council members Monday night on adding elections-at-large to the Nov. 21 redistricting issue.

"However," said McKinney, "we are going to have to feel our way in this matter because I do not know what the law is pertaining to having it on the same ballot with a redistricting issue."

McKinney said that his main interest was to give the people a choice and let them decide between the retaining of councilmanic districts or the election of councilmen at large.

With elections-at-large, the voters would go to the polls every two years (the same as they do now), but one time will elect three councilmen, and the next time elect only two. Only five councilmen would serve on the city council, with all five receiving the popular vote of the entire city. The term of office would be for four years, as it is now, with seven councilmen.

Under the present plan for redistricting, there would be no changes in the voting setup. The only changes in within the boundaries of the districts, which have been equalized to spread the number of voters and residents in each of the districts.

How the present six councilmen will react to the suggestion of elections-at-large is not known—some have indicated that it is what they want and should have (such as McKinney). Others are strongly against it.

But former Councilwoman Ruth Hardy made a strong plea for "elections-at-large" when she announced her resignation from the council after 12 full years.

If the voters want to retain a seven man council, the only way that this can be done and have elections-at-large is to change Palm Springs, by a popular vote, from a sixth class city to a charter city. That way the council would set any number of councilmen they believed to be needed.

Put More Tanks in Berlin, Says Johnson

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson has told President Kennedy he should send more fighting equipment, including heavy tanks, to Berlin if the Communists exert more pressure there.

Johnson also recommended that Kennedy ask the British to increase their manpower commitment in Germany and call on France to bring troops from Algeria to Germany.

During his visit to West Berlin, Johnson told the Germans that the United States expected them to take a bigger part in NATO.

While there, he made a spur-of-the-moment decision not to go into East Berlin. Not wanting to do anything that might seem provocative, Johnson declined a West German official's invitation and instead talked with him through the open door of his limousine.

Later, members of Johnson's party, including Charles (Chip) Bohlen, went across the border to look at the Russian zone, which they found an armed camp.

Johnson carried a reply from Kennedy to Brandt's demand for "action instead of words" on the Berlin situation. The reply was described as "pretty hot." Brandt avoided accepting it on two or three occasions before finally taking it.

Brandt was much chastened by the time Johnson saw him, and the vice president was told that the letter indicated a far harsher attitude than Brandt actually felt.

Cigaretts Up; Daily Jail Wage Hiked

RIVERSIDE — An increase in the daily wage of jail inmates for prison labor has been approved by the board of supervisors as requested by Sheriff Joe Rice. The raise, from 25 cents per day to 35 cents per day, will give county jail inmates the same pay as industrial road camp workers.

The sheriff gave pay equalization between the two groups as the reason for the increase, but County Counsel Ray Sullivan called it a cost of living increase. Supervisor Paul Anderson remarked that "the cost of cigarettes is up." Supervisor William Jones agreed, "It's tied in with the increased cost of cigarettes."

Moderate Priced Suggestions For '61

THERE IT IS, the Farrah Building, 360-364 N. & Telephone Co. Were you right? (Desert Palm Canyon Dr. And that utility firm, as you can plainly see, is the California Water & Telephone Co.) (Sun Photo)

'GOT TO HANG UP NOW'

A Car Is Coming Into The Telephone Booth

MARTELL, Calif. (UPI) — "I've got to hang up now. A car is coming into the phone booth."

That's how Robert Spencer, 63, concluded a call he was making to his wife in Sacramento. She called the Highway Patrol.

The patrol found that Spencer was not just making an imaginative excuse. He suffered a cut hand when Emil Coulet's car rolled down a hill and smashed into the booth.

Goulet, 61, a hotel operator, was also shaken up by the accident although he was not in the car. It was the second automobile he had chased downhill within minutes.

Goulet said he found a car blocking his driveway and started to push it out of the way with his own vehicle. The empty car got away and started down the hill.

Goulet jumped out and chased it on foot. But it crashed into a hedge at the bottom of the hill before he could catch it.

On his way back up the hill about, Goulet met his own car rolling down.

Again Goulet finished second in the downhill race.

Assembly Gets Red-Outlaw Bill On State Voting

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — An Assembly committee has agreed to a full dress hearing on a controversial proposal to outlaw the Communist Party in California elections.

The bill by Assemblyman Louis Francis, R-San Mateo, will be heard by the Elections and Reapportionment Committee in Los Angeles Sept. 1.

The bill, sent to interim study by the 1961 legislature, includes the Community Party by name in a provision of present law prohibiting participation in a direct primary election by a party advocating the overthrow of the government by force, violence, or other unlawful means.

Witness Pleads 5th on Gambling

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Boston race track information operator refused to answer questions at the Senate Gambling investigation today on grounds he might incriminate himself. He was the first witness to resort to the Fifth Amendment.

The witness was Angelo Rossetti, who operates a telephone service that flashes horse race results to clients in northeastern United States.

Rossetti said that answering questions about his operation, his convict acquaintances or his own criminal record would tend to incriminate him.

Rossetti was the opening witness as the Senate investigators headed by Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., began digging into operations of "flash services" throughout the nation. Such services are legal under existing federal law.

Rossetti, a short squat man with heavy jowls, gave his name and address. After that, he used the Fifth Amendment.

Rossetti declined to say whether he had been jailed in the Danbury, Conn., federal penitentiary in 1936 for violation of the Federal Watering Act.

This law requires gamblers to take out a $50 a year gambling stamp and pay 10 per cent of their gross income as a special federal tax.

McClellan, citing previous testimony, suggested Wednesday that illegal off-track horse race betting amounted to $50 billion a year.

Mortimer M. Caplin, the government's chief tax collector, neither accepted nor disputed the figure. If true, he agreed, then the Treasury is losing $5 billion in tax revenue every year, enough to balance the federal budget.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, McClellan's chief counsel in the old Senate Rackets Committee, takes a more conservative view. Last spring he estimated the gross volume of gambling at $7 billion a year.

When the tax law was enacted, the House Ways and Means Committee estimated probable revenues of $400 million a year, Caplin recalled. But actual collections last year came to a piddling $7 million.

Cooley Starts Serving Life Prison Sentence

CHINO (UPI) — Donnell (Spade) Cooley, 50, started serving a life imprisonment sentence Wednesday at the California Institution for Men here for the murder of his wife.

Cooley will spend five to six weeks here for routine processing and classification before being moved to a maximum security prison, probably San Quentin. He will be eligible for parole in seven years.

The former Los Angeles television star and arranger for cowboy Roy Rogers was hurried here Wednesday from Kern County Jail at Bakersfield because of "threatening letters and phone calls." He was transferred without advance notice.

He was convicted Saturday of first-degree murder in connection with the April 3 death of his wife, Elia May, 37.

Cooley said he hoped to rehabilitate himself in prison by teaching music and crafts.

Trees Hit by Killer

Epidemic In Palms And Citrus

A local authority on desert trees and scrubs, reported today that local palm and citrus trees were being killed by an epidemic of scaley - bark and penicillin-fungus.

A test is now under way in front of the Palm Springs city hall on a tree which had contracted the fatal penicillin-fungus, and the fronds had turned brown and died.

Roy Wehrle was called in to attempt to bring the tree back to life, and using a sulphur compound, the "medicine" to be placed into the very heart of the tree.

The tree had first been stripped of its fronds, and layed bare to allow the "medicine" to be placed in the trees heart.

Wehrle said that the combination of medicine for the tree included the sulphur compound, mixed with an insecticide which killed the worms so often a major cause in a trees death.

Many have wondered how their trees get filled with worms, and Wehrle explained that the worms are left in the trees by birds which left excreta containing worm eggs in the tree.

Both the scaley-bark and the penicillin-fungus can be arrested if it is caught early enough, according to Wehrle, but many people wait too long.

He was particularly sure of his statements that an epidemic was in this area, striking a death blow to many of the Washingtonia, Filifera and Robustas which decorate the yards and byways of the resort city. In commenting on it, he said that he had personally observed more than two score of trees that were suffering from the deadly disease.

Within the next eight weeks the experiment on the tree in front of the city hall should start showing results, and within a few months should be born once again with the palm fronds a brighter, healthier green than even its neighboring trees, provided the tree is not already dead.

After Rape, Masked Man Fed Baby

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A masked man accused of attacking a young woman and raping a 15-year-old girl paused before fleeing to feed a crying baby, sheriff's detectives reported.

Investigators said they were told the intruder ripped a backdoor screen to enter the home of Wilbert Arnold early today. Arnold's 15-year-old stepdaughter, Evette Odham, 15; Darlene Arnold, 18 months; Mrs. Ruth Dunn, 20, a house guest from Oklahoma; and Louise Cali, 14, a visitor, were asleep when the suspect entered. The intruder ripped a telephone from the wall and used the cord to tie up the teen-age girls. He tried to rape Mrs. Dunn, who recently underwent an operation, but she fought him off while sustaining knife cuts, officers said.

Detectives said the Oldham girl was criminally assaulted. The victims said that when Darlene began to cry, the Negro assailant paused in flight to feed her with a bottle formula he found in a refrigerator.

The suspect also took $18 from Mrs. Dunn before fleeing. Detectives, who found footprints leading to the back of the house, were informed other members of the family had gone on vacation.

$45,547 Found In Food Locker

GLENDAL (UPI)—Leon Ceparro, 73-year-old voice teacher who doesn't trust banks, Wednesday claimed $45,547 found in a frozen food locker, but police told him he'd have to go to court to get it.

Ceparro was notified five days ago that the manager of the frozen food locker had found the money when he opened a locker because the rent hadn't been paid. But he was reluctant to claim it until today.

He identified the money—neatly wrapped in packages—from the serial numbers on the bills which ranged from $1 to $1,000. Police told Ceparro, who said he put the money in the locker for safekeeping, that he would have to go to court to obtain a writ of recovery to prove the money was his.

But the Internal Revenue Service attached the money with a lien to give agents a chance to determine whether income taxes have been paid on the sum.

Roman Headache on West Berlin Troubles

By DANIEL GILMORE
United Press International

ROME (UPI)—The West has another headache in facing up to the Berlin crisis. Amintore Fanfani's government is still a staunch friend and ally of the West but the Christian Democrat premier is causing concern in more than one Western embassy with his apparent drift toward an attitude of "let's not be nasty or hasty with the Russians" over Berlin.

This tone was heard immediately after Fanfani returned from a visit to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev early this month. It has grown louder as the Berlin crisis developed and is now out in the open in editorials appearing in Il Popolo, the newspaper of the party which dominates the government.

At the same time, Communists and their allies are now praising Fanfani since his Moscow trip for his "statesmanship" and his "voice of reason."

The concern now is that Fanfani may be starting to think of Italy as a possible "neutral mediator" between the United States and Russia.

A few days ago, his newspaper said in a front page editorial that Khrushchev's language "is not always easily understandable" to all people. It suggested that the closing of the East-West Berlin frontier was perhaps just his way of "stepping on the gas" towards peaceful negotiations.

"Not for nothing," the newspaper said, had Fanfani himself warned Khrushchev against unilateral action on Berlin. It added:

"And it is for these considerations in view of the delicacy of

City Salutes Desert Angels Committeemen

With a salute for a job "well done," the Palm Springs City Council has disbanded the Desert Angels Committee which was responsible for the successful negotiations to bring the Angels to this community for spring training.

The council ordered City Clerk Shirley Henry to prepare a copy of the resolution thanking the committee members for the job each did.

The resolution said, in part, "this city council does desire to commend each and every member of and does express appreciation to the Desert Angels Committee, as individually set forth as follows, for their diligent efforts and their success in performing the basic task in securing this most important contract for the city of Palm Springs."

Members of the committee named included: Kenneth Kirk, chairman; Harry Voelker, executive vice chairman; Ray Corliss; George Beebe Jr., Ted McKinney; Philip Abrams, Mayor F. M. Bogert; Howard Haddock; William H. Smith, and Joel Stone.

Also commended were the following named individuals for their efforts on various subcommittees:

Lew Levy, John Seamans, Cliff Brown, Leonard Wolf, Jim Cavett, Phil Franklin, Cliff Babin, Hal Kapp, Bill Brubaker, Danny Callahan, Burton Lamb, Mrs. Myna Welcome, Red Keene and John Haskell.

In its resolution the city said, "This city is cognizant of the fact that without the efforts of each of the above named persons, this project would have not been possible."

SP Freight Derailed by Water Wall

SPARKS, Nev. (UPI)—A west-bound Southern Pacific freight train was derailed Wednesday night by a wall of water and debris in the Truckee River canyon, nine miles east of Sparks.

Three crewmen, all riding in the locomotive, suffered minor injuries. A hospital spokesman said "they came through surprisingly well" after the locomotive turned over on its side.

Engineer Fred Norman, 64, Reno, and brakeman Roy Saunders, 25, Sparks, were taken to Washoe Medical Center in Reno where they were treated for cuts and bruises. A fireman, Tom Archibald, 31, was treated for cuts.

A Southern Pacific spokesman said five diesel units, including the locomotive, and 17 freight cars were jarred off the track when they struck large rocks. Two diesel units and the 17 cars overturned. The rest of the 59-car train was backed out of the ravine undamaged.

The accident occurred after a sudden downpour drenched the narrow canyon and washed away part of the ballast supporting the track.

Repair crews, equipped with bulldozers and a mobile railroad crane, moved in immediately to clean up the debris, right the cars and repair about 300 feet of damaged track.

Conference Failed to Isolate Cuba--Guevara

HAVANA (UPI)—Cuban Minister of Industry Ernest (Che) Guevara said Wednesday night that the recent hemisphere conference in Uruguay had failed to isolate Cuba from the American community.

He said the conference of economic leaders had been designed to chain the Latin American nations to Wall Street and to organize a campaign against Cuba.

"We were in total cold war," the bearded leftist said.

But he conceded that the meeting, at which the basis for President Kennedy's alliance for progress was established, achieved partial success.

Guevara, Cuba's delegate to the 21-nation conference held at Punta del Este, reported on the meeting over a nationwide radio broadcast. Cuba was the only nation that did not sign the charter for the program which will distribute $20 billion in U.S. investment to the hemisphere.

"The conference was destined to establish an alliance of progress announced by Kennedy and to chain the Latin American nations even more to Wall Street and to organize an ulterior attack against Cuba," Guevara said.

The new principal took his A.B. degree at San Diego State College in 1954.

Morongo Vote On School Bond Slated

TWENTYNINE PALMS — A proposed $450,000 school bond issue will be presented to the voters in the Morongo Unified School District Nov. 6 as a result of action taken by the board of education. The vote for the bond issue found four members of the board voting yes, with Ted Strong abstaining.

Strong held to his previous conviction that a larger bond issue should be recommended.

The amount of monies approved was on the basis of estimates for construction to be completed by September 1963. This is aside from construction scheduled to be completed prior to September 1962, for which the $2 million bond issue was voted in last year.

The new bond issue will provide for a two classroom school for Morongo Valley, with administration, storage, restrooms, walks, driveways, corridors, playground, utilities equipment, with the cost estimated at $85,000.

The bond also allows for a $50,000 addition of two classrooms to the Yucca Valley School.

In Twentynine Palms, the plans include additions to the Palms Vista School and the Twentynine Palms Junior High School.

Point Intended for Home

BEHIND THIS walled-up entrance lies a 35 foot tunnel leading to a small room. Did Palm Springs pioneer Thomas O'Donnell originally intend it to be his tomb? Today, no one is absolutely certain. The man who probably knew better than any other, John Kline, died about a year ago.

High Landmark Was Project of Tom O'Donnell

By KEN REICH

Inspiration Point, true, is a remarkable landmark. But it is also the site of one man's employment project, the site of a man-made cave, perhaps designed as a crypt but never used, and, in short, a reminder of a remarkable man.

The road leading up the hill to it, the wide level area chopped out of the mountainside, the cross constructed by the late Earl C. Anthony — all these are well known to local residents.

But few know about the now-closed-off little room burrowed out of the rock at the end of a 35 foot-long tunnel drilled into the mountain by workmen 20 years ago. And no one, even those who worked on it, is sure how old Thomas O'Donnell intended that room to be used.

The Man

There is little doubt O'Donnell, the prominent Southern California oil pioneer, looked forward to building a home at Inspiration Point. Some say he wanted the mysterious room to be his crypt. But, if he did, he kept it a secret from his closest friends, and he is not buried there.

O'Donnell himself, who died in 1945, is fast becoming a shadowy, legendary figure here. Born in Erie County, Pennsylvania in 1870, he came to California with just a few dollars in his pocket at the age of 18.

Once here, he got a job as a field superintendent for Southern California's great oil resource developers, Charles A. Canfield, E. L. Doherty and Max H. Whittier. It was O'Donnell who drilled the first oil wells in the Los Angeles basin and the Coalinga area in the San Joaquin Valley. He was later head of the California Oil Corp. and the American Petroleum Institute.

Built Golf Course

Moving to Palm Springs in 1924, O'Donnell built a home and then spent more than $200,000 to build a nine-hole golf course for his personal use. The site used to be a public campground, long-time residents recall.

Gradually, more and more of O'Donnell's friends began to use the course and as he grew older the oil pioneer decided to perpetuate it in the form of a golf club.

Organizing about 25 of his friends, including such well-known villagers as J. D. French, L. W. Dennison and John Kline, into the O'Donnell Golf Club, he deeded the property to the City of Palm Springs on condition that the golf club get a 99 year lease on it.

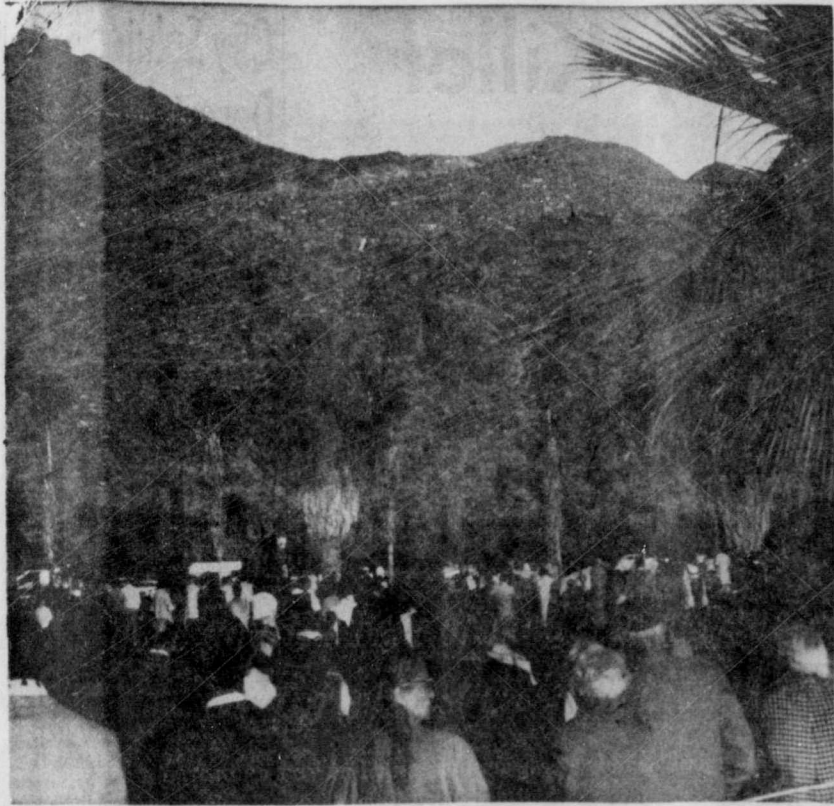

It was during the depression that O'Donnell decided to build the road to Inspiration Point. According to Larry Sitter, manager of the golf club then and now, and others who remember, the primary object was to give work to the many unemployed in town at that time.

Work Provided

Frank Reyes, now employed by the Rancho Mirage Water Company, who worked on the roadway, remembers O'Donnell as "a very nice man with all of us."

"He gave a lot of people work who needed it," Reyes relates. "There were 18 to 20 men working and we worked 18 hours straight sometimes. John Kline was the superintendent, though he worked right along with us. We used jackhammers, did lots of blasting and worked around the clock."

Among those still living who

MORE THAN 1500 worshipers came last Easter to the sunrise services at Inspiration Point. As they gather in the early morning, they can look up and be further inspired by the 20 foot cross put up by the late Earle C. Anthony. At night the neon-lighted cross can be seen throughout the downtown area.

Cholera Moves To Hong Kong, Slays Five

HONG KONG (UPI)—A cholera epidemic that spread to this crowded British crown colony from the Communist China mainland claimed its fifth victim here. Three more deaths were reported in neighboring Portuguese Macao.

Hong Kong health authorities said there were 48 confirmed cases of cholera reported in the colony and at least 14 suspected cases.

The deadly disease was reported to have taken at least 30,000 lives in the south areas of Communist China.

Health authorities here and in nearby Portuguese Macao took steps to prevent the spread of the disease which takes thousands of lives annually in Asia.

Tight controls were clamped on at border crossing points from the China mainland, inoculation campaigns were speeded up and various other preventive measures were instituted.

Embedded in concrete the 20 foot-high cross is lighted during the winter season, and many visitors have been inspired by it. Dr. Blackstone can recall three poems written about it.

The Community Church finds it necessary to repair it from time to time, due to the fierce winds that blow at that height above the city, and following vandalism one Easter, Boy Scouts guard it during the Easter Week now.

Paying for the electricity necessary to keep the light on are the F. C. Daugherty of the Horizon Trailer Village, who own the land on which the cross is built, a wonderful example, Dr. Blackstone says, of "two Catholics cooperating with a Protestant church to keep the cross lit."

Mrs. Singler is one of the 32 charter members of the association. She is a legal secretary employed by Slaughter, Schlesinger & Schlecht, attorneys, in Palm Springs. Miss Nelson is in their employ for the summer months.

Mrs. Nova Gray has returned to her home here after a recent few days spent with Mrs. Anthony Schaefer, of Hollywood and Thousand Palms, in the Schaefer's mountain cabin near Thomas Mountain. Mrs. Gray has made several trips to this mountain retreat so far this summer, to beat the heat and get cooled off a bit.

Mrs. Ralph Pimentel is at home convalescing from major surgery which she recently underwent at Casita Hospital in Indio.

British Girls Who Can't Cook Dial A Recipe

British girls who embark on a matrimonial career without knowing how to cook do not have to worry about feeding their husbands any more.

All a wife has to do is dial ASK-8071 and a feminine voice will give her a recipe for a tasty meal.

This is a new telephone service announced by the British Postmaster General. It started in Birmingham, and if successful, will be extended to London, Liverpool, Manchester, Glasgow and other main cities.

The new service will provide one recipe for a main course every day.

The British Farm Products Council will choose the recipe, taking into consideration the weather and the price of various foods.

Summer Favorites

Versatile, highly nutritious and wonderfully rich in flavor, cream cheese and sour cream are favorites with nearly every member of the family. So use them to perk up your summer meals.

To help you do this in an interesting way, we took some old favorites, added some new ingredients and seasonings here and there and then tested them with family and friends.

The new perky salad molds shown here are just one of our special discoveries. The result was a marvelous combination of colors and flavors that made a most attractive conversation piece.

Kitchen Wax Harms Wood Says Expert

Kitchen waxes that require no buffing are hood-winking millions of American housewives who use them on hardwood floors, an expert warns.

"More than 21,000,000 American women unconsciously harm their hardwood floors by application of no-rub self-polishing waxes," says Henry M. Tobey, research director of the world's biggest maker of hardwood flooring.

What housewives don't know, says Tobey, is that the very thing that makes these waxes shine without rubbing — water — is injurious to wood. Worse still, once down most of these self-polish waxes can't be removed by ordinary means.

Milady's "miracle" worksaver thus often puts her on hands and knees trying to remove old floor wax with razorblades and brushes.

Technically, most self-polishing waxes aren't waxes at all—they're resins or "acrylics," akin to those used in the production of shellac and plastics.

"Synthetic waxes do a good job on kitchen floors," says Tobey. "With effort and the aid of a few good commercially available cleaning compounds they can be removed from linoleum and tile without harm. But the housewife who uses them on wood is asking for trouble."

"Frankly, we can't find anything that will remove most kitchen waxes from wood floors without serious side effects."

Because they can't be safely removed, old layers of wax build up over a period of time and become embedded with dirt. Eventually they darken and discolor the floor.

Once this happens, says the wood technologist, only sanding and refinishing can restore the floor's original beauty.

Survey Reveals A Long Hair Trend For Teenagers

The first rock-shocked teenagers have grown up—and so have the musical tastes.

The predictions that rock 'n' roll would lead them to rack and ruin now are being disproved. It turns out that rock 'n' roll has led them to an enthusiasm for better music.

This was revealed in a survey by a maker of phonograph needles and accessories.

Seventy-eight per cent of the young persons questioned have turned to the kind of music they scorned as "square" when teenagers.

Their tastes today taken in everything from melodic ballads to classics.

The other 22 per cent still rocks—but not necessarily around the clock. They intersperse the rock 'n' roll discs with plain melodies, the pollsters found.

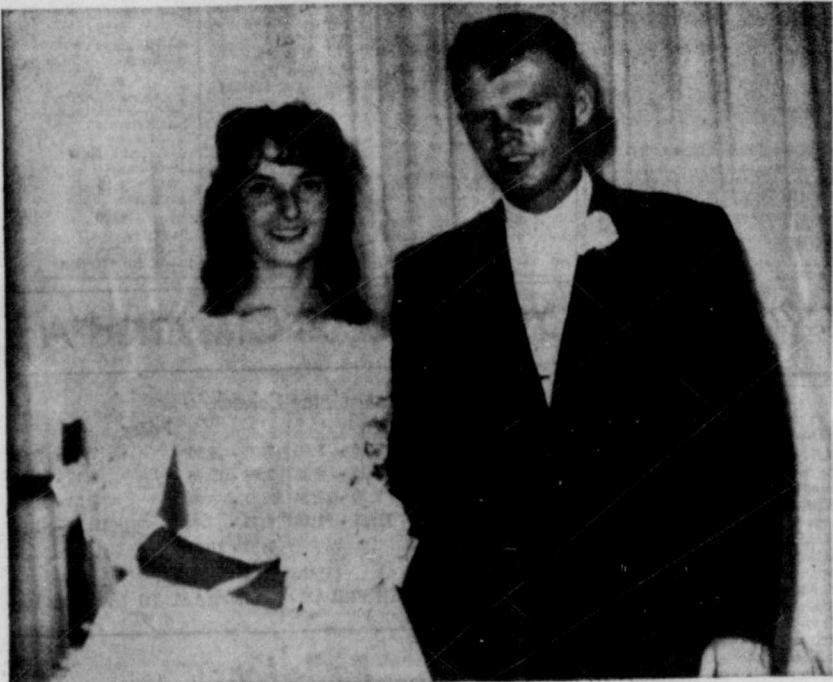

"This may be the most reassuring news parents could have," said the president of the firm. "This is the generation that met Elvis head-on — and the youngsters not only survived but came out ahead of the game, musically speaking."

Kathleen Duarte Is Married, Baptized By Same Minister

As a child Miss Kathleen Duarte of Yucca Valley was baptized by Rev. J. W. Arnold and as an adult, she became the bride of L/Cpl. Richard L. Porter of Colorado, with Rev. Arnold officiating at Cathedral City Community Church.

During the first formal services held at the new church, the bride wore an organza, ballerina-length gown with a chantilly lace bodice, three-quarter sleeves, and a scalloped neckline.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose her sister, Esther Duarte, as maid of honor. Gowned in blue and carrying white and red carnation bouquets, the bride was Cheri Wood of Yucca Valley; Carolyn Sall of La Puente; and Kathy Porter, sister to the groom.

The groom's identical twin brother, Rolland Porter traveled from Greeley, Colo. to be his best man, and another brother, Russell Porter, came from Fort Sill, Okla. to serve as an usher. Also ushers were three Marines, who with the groom, are stationed at Twentynine Palms Marine Base.

Following the ceremony, a three tiered wedding cake was served to guests in the church hall. Hostesses at the reception were Rev. Arnold's mother, Mrs. Myrtle O'Neal of Pomona, and his sister, Mrs. Ernest Sall of La Puente. Miss Susan Chandler of Landers, Calif. presided over the guest book and gift table.

The bride is the daughter of Dave Duarte of Mentone, and Mrs. Ruth Dietman of Yucca Valley.

The J. R. Porters of Greeley, are parents to the groom.

The couple are now at home in Twentynine Palms.

Up To Ankles In Shoes This Fall

To toe the fashion mark this fall, it's predicted you'll own a wardrobe of shoes. You'll not only change leather texture with the time of day but also the basic shoe shape.

Smartest with woolen dresses, tweed suits and daytime outfits is the new crescent toe. In shape, it's half way between the pointed and square toe. In other brown or smooth brown calf edged in black it goes well into late afternoon. Square toes — in leathers as rugged as tweed and in brilliant colored reptile skins — are ideal for weekend and country wear, and for city shopping.

Square stacked leather heels give ample support without looking heavy. Pointed toes are strictly for dressy evening wear. They turn up most often with slender mid-high heels. In wine-red shiny calf they're as dressy as silk.

Look too for warm tones of tobacco browns and caramels in silks, brocades and satins.

Don't clutter your wardrobe with clothes you will tire of quickly.

Television in Review

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —The network officials responsible for presenting a generally warped picture of this nation night in and night out on TV would do well to study ABC's grass-roots documentary series, "Focus on America."

It does not deal with pomaded private eyes who wear narrow lapels and tight pants. It is concerned with ordinary people, of whom there are quite a few. Last night's offering "Education Tailor-Made," hosted by Sam Levenson, told of the special schools available to gifted and retarded children in a big city — and had meaning for many parents. Like the other shows in the series, it first was aired by the local station that produced it and then was presented on a nationwide hookup.

It seems logical that networks short of good material — which is always — could add many worthwhile hours of viewing by relying on their affiliate stations similarly in the future.

In past weeks, "Focus on America" has told the stories of the development of San Francisco Bay; a cattle roundup on North America's biggest ranch; treatment of cancer of the breast in a University of Chicago hospital; the St. Louis police department; and the archaeological remnants of Arizona's three ancient Indian cultures.

Tuesday night's program was unusually timely. It was set in New York City — where education officials presently are the center of a furor involving alleged misadministration, bribery and corruption — and ended with a guest appearance by Superintendent of Schools John J. Theobald. Theobald, apparently in good grace when this show was filmed, was revealed in the uproar to have used vocational students to build him a boat, but he has retained his post.

The half-hour show therefore got off to an almost-humorous start when a narrator said the education problem was "a story too common everywhere" — a story of "payoff and carelessness."

"No, there is nothing wrong with your set," said Levenson. "We just want you to know how it is to live in a silent world."

Unfortunately, Levenson's interviewing left something to be desired. Brushing over the bad points of the city's school setup, he asked Theobald: "We don't have an ideal school system, but we're trying, aren't we?" "Yes," smiled Theobald, relieved. What else could he say?

A few seconds later, Theobald added, "Sam, it's been a very maddening pleasure to be here." Very tremendous. Now, there's a word combination for a superintendent of schools to be tossing around. Maybe he was thinking of the boat.

China Has Its Problems

For the Chinese Communists 1961 may be the year of "strategic retreats."

The greatest retreat was made in the place where the greatest progress was supposed to have been achieved — the reorganization of agriculture.

Agriculture production figures for 1961 have not been published.

The Communist Chinese regime has been buying and will continue to buy grain from capitalist nations for at least another three years.

This year, however, the Communist press makes much of wind, rain or lack of rain to show that if things turn out badly, the Communist party will not be responsible.

But back in 1956 to 1958 the party declared that the Communist system had "conquered nature" and that natural calamities were a thing of the past on the China mainland.

Mao Tse-tung's commune system also has come in for a share of retreats.

In the past three years, under the pressure of successive emergencies, the commune system, has been modified and decentralized.

More individual interest has gradually been allowed to the peasants—slightly larger plots of land for their own use, a little more freedom to grow subsidiary crops for their own benefit, and the tolerance of some "free markets" where producers may sell and consumers buy certain commodities.

As agricultural production fails to increase, the only means toward restoration of workers production enthusiasm is by making major concessions, or returning a little to "capitalism."

(Redlands Daily Facts)

Charitable organizations must register and file annual financial statements with him or they will lose their tax-exempt status, Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk warned the other day.

A new statute, he noted, provides that no tax exemption shall be allowed to organizations that fail to register and file. The law goes into effect January 1, 1962. Mr. Mosk's admonition was to give fair warning.

It is characteristic that little is heard about many new laws the Legislature has passed until they are signed by the Governor. So many bills are acted upon that the controversial ones put lesser ones in the shade.

Just which organizations in Redlands will be required to file we have no way of knowing at this time. But the president of everyone should make it his business to find out if his group is affected.

You have seen before that organizations often let such matters slip. Remember the church case that was warned that they would have to file for certain exemptions a few years ago and then were upset when they were penalized, properly, for their dereliction?

It is possible to entertain mixed feelings about the registration law.

Some organizations are deep of heart and warm in human values. They do a lot of good. But they are poor hands at book-keeping and accounting. Ask them to give a statistical accounting of their activities and you get a sorry answer.

Other organizations seem helped on making a good showing. They make an industry out of logging every last telephone call they receive. They can tell you, in decimal points, about the number of letters received and written.

But the impressive array of statistics is not necessarily meaningful. Maybe they have been doing a wonderful job in addition to keeping figures. On the other hand, they may have been merely busy being busy.

Figures aren't everything. The principal need for public accounting of charitable funds is to make it possible to see where the money is going.

Until they were squelched, there were a couple of outfits that solicited in Southern California in the name of the blind. There's a cause that will touch the heart of any person who isn't made of stone. Yet, under scrutiny it turned out that precious little of the money was actually aiding the blind. Most of it was going into the pockets of those who chose to make a living out of the cause — and they weren't blind.

In the modern day there is a great deal of money being raised in the name of health. The worthy purposes of these organizations is beyond doubt. There are a couple of public questions however that could be better answered. Just what do they do with all of the money they take in? Who gets paid how much? How much money do they collect from the public in relation to the seriousness of their cause?

The health organizations which stand firmly on sound policy and genuine utility have nothing to fear from public accounting. They should welcome the new law for only those with unsound policies need fear the loss of public favor.

Dear Abby . . .

. . . by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: I have been married 9 years and have 5 children. My husband has worked only 7 months in the past two years, and I have had to find some way to help earn some money. I was fortunate in finding a job I could do in my own home, but it is getting me down.

My job is to telephone people and very courteously ask, "What kind of automobile do you drive?" I am NOT selling anything. I am merely seeking information. I have had the receiver slammed down on my ear. I have had people tell me to go to hell, drop dead and several other insulting things. Please put a kind word in your column for women who have to earn a living this way. I get so hurt at times I could cry.

DEAR TELEPHONE JOB: While there is no excuse for being insulting, you must admit that when a woman is bathing her baby, or is elbow-deep in cookie dough, and she rushes to the phone to hear, "What kind of automobile do you drive?", she has cause to be a little annoyed. Don't take these rebuffs personally. Either develop a thick skin, or find another way to make a living. A sensitive soul can't last long in the telephone-calling business.

DEAR ABBY: I got up to give my baby her 2:00 a.m. bottle, and I heard the neighbor's children, ages 2 and 3, screaming. Their mother is a night waitress who works from 11 p.m. to 7 a.m., and their father is supposed to be home. His car wasn't in the driveway so I went over and tried to get in. The house was locked up tight. I telephoned the mother at her place of work, and she said she'd come right home in a cab. A few minutes before she arrived, her husband came in the back door. He said he never left the place, and was there all the time. I was called a meddling busybody, and a few other things.

My husband is a trucker, and has seen this man coming home at 4 and 5 in the morning. What can be done, Abby? What if those babies were locked in the house and a fire broke out? I can't sleep nights for worrying about them.

DEAR ONLY: The husband is obviously irresponsible, so you had better talk plainly with the wife. Let her know that her babies are being left alone and, unless she wants to be taken to court for neglecting her children, she had better stay home or arrange for competent help.

The calendar's in for reform
To make our holidays conform.

That group which would junk our present calendar as outmoded has been dormant for some time but last week I read an article which indicates it is beginning to perk up again.

THEY WOULD add another month to the year and shorten all 13 of them to exactly 28 days. That would make the first of every month fall on a Sunday and the last day, the 28th, on a Saturday.

That extra day, left over under this scheme, would be given a special name and be a holiday, too. It would be stuck in the new calendar between the last day of the dying year, Dec. 28, and the first day of the new year, Jan. 1.

COULDN'T FIND anywhere what they were going to call the day. Because Dec. 28 would have to be a Saturday and Jan. 1 a Sunday. So it would be three days between Saturday morning and Sunday night.

Proponents say that this calendar would make it easy for people to know what day of the week any date would be. But this year-end extra day, neither Saturday or Sunday or both, sounds confusing.

IT'S ALL FIGURED OUT, though, about Leap Year. Every four years, there'd be two extra days a year. The second one would be sandwiched in between June 28 and July 1. Also a holiday.

Holidays play a big part in the scheme. Every one of them would come on a Monday, providing almost a dozen three-day weekends, depending on how many holidays you observed.

They have a fairly good argument about changing the traditional dates for our holidays.

THEY POINT to Easter and Labor Day, for instance. They're not fixed by date but by the first vernal equinox full moon in the case of Easter and the first Monday in September for Labor Day. And George Washington's birthday also is cited. George celebrated his birthday on Feb. 11 until he was almost 21 when the present, Gregorian, calendar became official.

Independence Day would always be Monday, July 2.

WITH ALL HOLIDAYS on Monday and the five-day week, everybody could have many three-day weekends to devote to needed home work or, if they didn't like the idea of labor, make whoopee.

They could put the Rose Bowl game on that extra day between Dec. 28 and Jan. 1. Then people would celebrate the New Year after the game instead of the night before and wouldn't have to hold one eye shut while watching, either in person or on TV.

THE IDEA has possibilities but I'm against it.

It wouldn't increase the number of weekly pay days but would make the bills come in 13 times a year. Isn't 12 enough? And think of the National Safety Council — with all of those extra three-day weekends for which to predict highway slaughter.

No, I'll take the present calendar. It's been with us 409 years and we're getting used to it.

What Is Wrong With These Military Men?

By HOLMES ALEXANDER

WASHINGTON — One of the most eloquent chapters of Douglas Southall Freeman's famous, four-volume life of General Lee is entitled "The Sword of Robert E. Lee" — and it might have been called something like "The American Military Officer: Its Beau Ideal."

This chapter, this whole biography, the same author's life of Washington and of "Lee's Lieutenants" and — I am going to insist — the entire range of American military biography, ought to be required reading at this hour.

It is an hour when the "military," by that condescending and opprobrious name is being degraded by a conscious effort to make it appear that Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps officers are something they are not. Lee, a West Point graduate and superintendent, remains as one of the great gentlemen of all history. From first to last, he held himself subordinate to the civil authority, first of the Union, then of Virginia, then of the Confederacy. The Confederacy's President, Jefferson Davis, was another professional soldier, as was U. S. Grant, who was the only West Pointer until Dwight Eisenhower to become President of the U. S.

None of these men had Lee's perfect gentility, but all of them — and very few American officers of note spoiled the proud record — were of Lee's mold when it came to high-minded patriotism and high-minded regard for the civil liberties of the people and the sanctity of the Constitution. Of Gen. Eisenhower, it was said that in the White House he was the most non-political and non-authoritative executive of our day. But it was never said of him that he showed the slightest inclination toward dictatorship or to disregard of the Constitution.

Where do the Leftists find their model for the American "militarist," which is now become the latest evil spirit to be exorcised? The Prussian officer seems to live in memory as a martinet. The Italians had their Caesars, past and recent. The French had Bonaparte. From these prototypes many Latin American dictators have taken shape.

The Russians, for whatever reason, have never put forward an Officer Corps that produced anything as reprehensible as Russian monks and peasants. The 20th century history of Russia tells that her officers twice strove valiantly to save their country. Once was in the 1930's when Stalin had become a bloody-handed monarch. They plotted to overthrow him. Had the Army taken over from Stalin instead of being decimated by liquidation and placed under political proctors, something very much better for Russia would have evolved. Had the Red Army kept Khrushchev from power, everybody would have been better off.

The Russian officers tried again, successfully, in saving their country from Hitler. Khrushchev, who was one of those political wardens and who liquidated many fine officers, paid tribute in 1956 to those whose lives he had spared some twenty years before. In the same secret speech which downgraded Stalin, Khrushchev said:

"As you know, before the war, we had excellent military cadres which were unquestionably loyal to the Party and to the Motherland. Suffice it to say that those of them who managed to survive despite severe tortures . . . have showed themselves real patriots and have fought heroically for the glory of the Motherland."

The British, too, have high military standards. Churchill began at Sandhurst and made his name against the Boers. Lord Wellington, the Iron Duke, became a stalwart Prime Minister who held, incidentally, a low opinion of the intellectuals (the "scribbling set," he called them) who pestered his conservative leadership.

But not the British, not even the early Romans, have shown the world finer military men than our own republic has done. I anticipate that the attack upon officers who express concern for the plight of the country is going to intensify. It would be well if the American people reminded themselves of our proud tradition, going back from Douglas and Arthur MacArthur to the earliest days. That whole host of famous commanders should come forward in our minds as character witnesses for their successors of today.

De Gaulle Faces New Grief

By WILLIAM J. FOX
United Press International

There is every likelihood that France's President Charles de Gaulle will soon have more trouble in North Africa. While the situation is being played down officially, he faces a two-pronged problem there. One comes from the regular army men there who are the backbone of the fight against the Moslem rebels. Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba remains determined to drive the French out of the air in some Algerian cities. They lack a focal point around which to rally their resentment. But Gen. Raoul Salan, champion of a "French Algeria," still is at large and might provide that force. The second part of De Gaulle's dilemma is the fact that hope of settling the Algerian issue by negotiation has foundered. As a result, the French have partly abandoned their unilateral cease fire, and the Moslem rebels are likely to build up for a more intensive fight. If Algeria doesn't provide enough difficulty, neighboring Tunisia promises to do so, against the Moslem rebels. They represent the idea of abandoning Algeria and are beginning to act up in some Algerian cities. They ordered a series of demonstrations over the weekend and the issue went before the United Nations in New York today.

GIANTS IN HR FEST

Giants Fell Reds 14-0; L.A. Loses

By FRED DOWN
United Press International
The San Francisco Giants tossed a clubhouse celebration worthy of a pennant clincher — and who's to say it wasn't a prelude to the real thing?
Certainly not the faltering Cincinnati Reds, whose clubhouse door was bolted tight Wednesday night after the "Jekyll-Hyde Giants" tied one record and set another in a 14-0 romp that moved them to within four games of first place in the National League.

Only a month ago the Giants were counted out of the race but today they are riding a seven-game winning streak and have won 13 of their last 15 games in a drive that recalls the "miracle pennant" of 1951.

It was difficult to tell which was more tumultuous — the Giants' clubhouse celebration or their thunderous five-homer, 12-run ninth-inning rally that made a shambles of what had been a close duel between winner Juan Marichal and Cincinnati 18-game winner Joey Jay.

Orlando Cepeda, Felipe Alou, Jim Davenport, Willie Mays and John Orsino homered and Cepeda and Willie McCovey each had two hits in the rally. The five homers in one inning tied a major league record previously shared by the 1939 Giants and 1949 Philadelphia Phillies and the 12 runs were the most ever scored by a major league team in a ninth inning.

The Dodgers plunged to their ninth straight loss when they bowed to the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-7, and the Pittsburgh Pirates edged out the Milwaukee Braves, 7-6, in the other National League games.

In the American League, the New York Yankees beat the Los Angeles Angels, 8-6, in 10 innings and opened up a three-game lead when the Cleveland Indians downed the Detroit Tigers, 4-2. The Minnesota Twins defeated the Chicago White Sox, 4-0, the Baltimore Orioles scored a 7-5, 12-inning win over the Kansas City A's, and the Boston Red Sox routed the Washington Senators, 9-4.

A four-run eighth-inning rally.

Snead Sets 13 With Hogan

By JACK CUDDY
United Press International
NEW YORK — Sam Snead, having closed for his "dream series" of golf matches with Ben Hogan in September, said today: "I understand the great significance of these 13 matches on 13 different courses, around the country, is to prove something about a so-called mechanical player, Hogan and a so-called natural swinger."
He chuckled and added, "I wish the people who call me a natural swinger could have been around during the hours I put in just practicing the mechanics of getting the proper grip and the proper movements. They'd probably be calling me the mechanical man, instead of Ben."
Chatting in his suite at the Savoy Hilton, the robust, baldish man in the blue gabardine suit featured by Ken Boyer's homer and Curt Flood's decisive single enabled the Cardinals to extend the Dodgers' longest losing streak since 1944.

The Pirates spotted the Braves an early three-run lead on Frank Thomas' grand slam homer but pulled out the victory on Dick Stuart's ninth-inning single.

Roger Maris tripled home the tie-breaking run and scored the insurance tally in the Yankees' 10th-inning triumph over the Angels.

Johnny Temple's two-run fifth-inning homer provided the Indians with the runs they needed to top the Tigers.

Camilo Pascual pitched a two-hitter for his fifth shutout and 12th win behind a 12-hit Minnesota attack.

Jim Gentile hit his 37th and 38th homers of the season and also ignited the Orioles' winning rally with a double.

Jackie Jensen hit a three-run homer and Gary Geiger a two-run homer to lead an 11-hit Red Sox attack that brought Bill Monbouquette his ninth win and first since July 5.

Rally Yields Net Upset; Rains Put Finals to Monday

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. (UPI) — A college tennis coach and his mathematician partner — one racquet-swing from defeat — reigned today as the upset team of the rain-plagued National Doubles championships.

Unranked Dave Snyder of Tucson, Ariz., and Ronnie Fisher of Houston, Tex., were within a stroke of defeat Wednesday but they rallied to pin a startling 7-9, 4-6, 6-1, 7-5, 10-8 loss on seventh-seeded Jon Douglas and Chris Crawford in a match that lasted 2 hours, 40 minutes.

Played in light rain, the match was the first major upset in this year's 81st U.S. Lawn Tennis Association doubles championships.

For the second time in three days rain washed out most of Wednesday's action. Only three men's and a single women's match were played.

Officials of the USLTA announced that as a result of the rain the finals of this year's tourney would be played Monday instead of Sunday as scheduled originally.

Top matches today will pit the Mexican and U. S. Davis Cup teams against formidable foes.

Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston of the United States battle national junior doubles champs Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico and Clark Graebner of Lakewood, Ohio.

Mexican Davis Cuppers Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox take on Adrian Bey of Northern Rhodesia and Alan Lane of Australia.

In today's women's feature match, which was postponed from Wednesday, third-seeded Australian Jan Lehane and Margaret Smith play British Wightman Cup team members Christine Truman and Ann Haydon.

said he hoped to have another member of his family in golf in a few years—his 17-year-old son, Jackie.

Not As Player
Sam grinned and explained, "But I want Jackie associated with the sport as a golf-course architect. There's a great field there. He'll build the courses and I'll play 'em."

He said Jackie, an honor student at Pompano (Fla.) High School, plans to go to Yale in the fall of 1962.

Both Snead and Hogan are wealthy men. Some say they're millionaires. It is reported without confirmation that their series of 13 head-on medal-play matches will be contested on a winner-take-all basis for each match. Also that the prize for each match will be $10,000.

MIGHT AND DAY got together during time-out from the Angels-Yankee set in Los Angeles, as Roger Maris, left, 50-homer hitter joined Doris Day and Yankee Mickey Mantle, now sporting 46 season homers, on "Touch of Mink" movie set. Sluggers join Yogi Berra —and Miss Day—in film. (UPI Telephoto)

96 Seek American Classic Title

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — A crack field of 90 professionals and six amateurs start today after golf's newest prize, the $50,000 American golf classic, with Arnold Palmer the betting choice and Sammy Snead the sentimental favorite.

On the sidelines looking on for this big one was temperamental Tommy Bolt, sitting out the final days of a 30-day suspension. Bolt lost his appeal from an indefinite suspension slapped on him for using obscene language at the PGA championship tournament at Olympic Fields, Ill., July 30 so he could compete in the tourney. But he won reinstatement as of Aug. 30.

Palmer has not been playing too well, appearing mostly in exhibitions and television matches, since he won the British Open title, but the 7,165-yard, par 35-35 70 rugged Firestone Country Club is the kind of course he usually does well on. The course is narrow and made for long straight drives and accurate putters.

Ranking up with Palmer in the favorites' role were U.S. pen champion Gene Littler; PGA king Jerry Barber, Masters champion Gary Player; Doug Sanders, Jay Hebert and Billy Casper.

Long hitting Jack Nicklaus and U.S. amateur champion Deane Beaman head the six amateurs in the field, which includes 39 of the top 44 money winners on the pro tour.

AFLOAT . . . A-WHEELING . . .

14 Year-Old Threatens Ladies' Golf Tourney

TACOMA, Wash. (UPI) — Two former champions, Ann Quast Decker and Barbara McIntire, were confronted today with the possibility that their road to the Women's national Amateur golf championship could be blocked by a 14-year-old upstart named Roberta Albers.

Miss Albers, 118-pound tornado from Tampa, Fla., dispatched two talented foes with such ease Wednesday that more experienced players were starting to wonder who could stop her.

Miss Albers eliminated Judy Eller, Old Hickory, Tenn., 5 and 3, and then followed up with a 5 and 4 victory over the seasoned Mary Janssen Charlottesville, Va.

If the tiny Floridian could overcome the obstacles ahead she would be the youngest person in history to win the event. In 1896, Miss Beatrix Hoyt, at the age of 16, won the title. In 1957, Miss Joanne Gunderson, then 18, won it.

"We're not worried about that. Just the match ahead," That brings her up against Miss Karen Schull, Kansas City, Mo., runner-up for the national intercollegiate title this year. In the other half of the same bracket, Miss McIntire, who won the national amateur in 1959, tangles with Miss Phyllis Pruess, Birmingham, Mich.

On the other side of the bracket, Judy Hoetmer, Seattle, who beat Miss Schull for the national intercollegiate crown, tangles with Mrs. Gaines Wilson, three-times Kentucky champion from Louisville.

And Mrs. Decker, 1958 queen, meets her seasoned Mrs. Ruth White Miller, California state champion from Long Beach.

Hopes for Fight

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former Olympic heavyweight titlist Pete Rademacher said today he is hoping to get a non-title fight with light heavyweight co-champion Archie Moore this winter.

Rademacher, who was stopped in the second round by George Logan at Boise, Idaho, last week, also announced he is negotiating for fights in Germany and Italy.

Welders Garner DSL Crown With 2-1 Colony Loss

Chuck's Welders downed the Mexican Colony 2-1 in the second game of the Desert Softball League Playoff Championship last night, to sweep the local crown.

The Welder's had taken the first in the best two of three series Monday, with a 1-0 tally.

Neal Green held the Colony to three hits for the win, while Frank Prieto gave up seven hits, and suffered two errors by teammates in the one-point edge.

C. B. Crawford took batting honors with a line drive homer, as he joined John Laster in a two out of four record at the box.

The Welder's victory capped their record as the DSL season champions.

Monday, the Colony squad opens play in the Class "B" tourney in Riverside at 7 p.m. in Evans Park. In Class "C" play, the Coachella Valley Savings and Loan team opens its attack at 9 p.m. For Class "A" contention, the Welders meet the Riverside leaders Tuesday.
